Someone to Talk to

Friendship is the comfort, the inexpressable comfort of feeling safe with a person, having neither to weigh thoughts nor measure words, but pouring all right out just as they are, chaff and grain together, certain that a faithful, friendly hand will take and sift them, keep what is worth keeping, and with a breath of comfort, blow all the rest away.

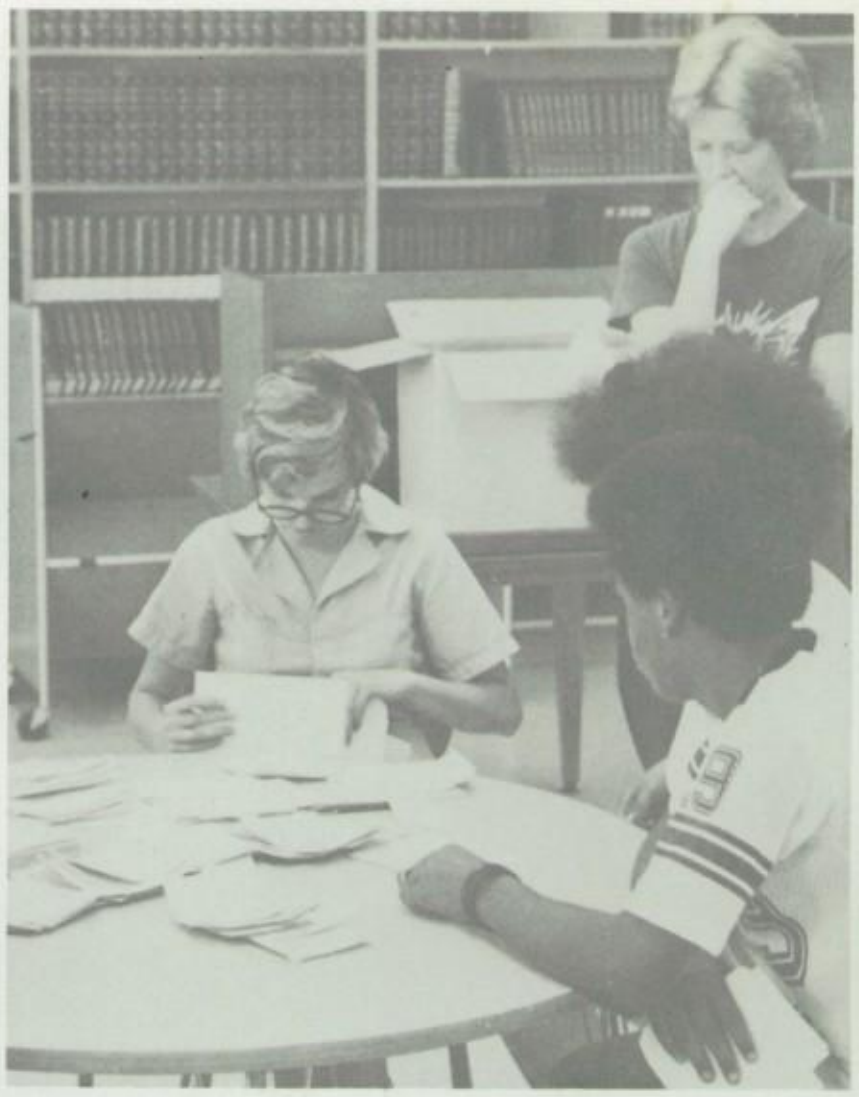
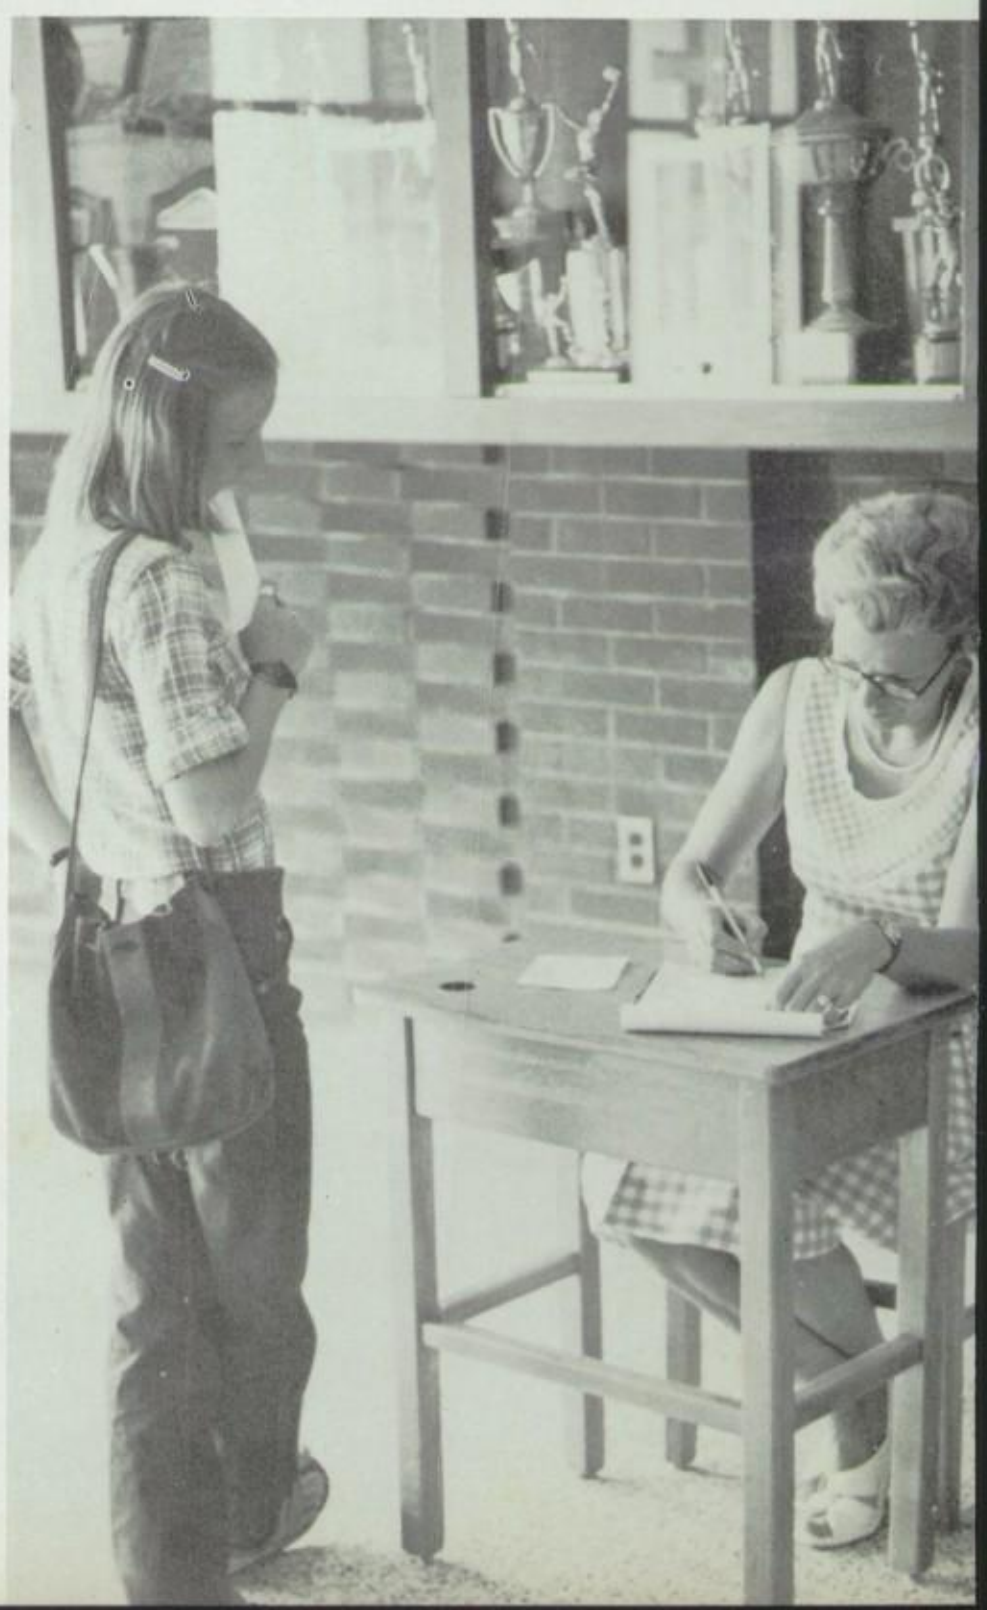
A New Beginning

After twelve long years of school, the Senior class of 1977 awaited anxiously for "their night"–June 7, 1977. For the first time in two years, M-M's graduation was held in the stadium in unseasonal, cold, chilly weather as compared to previous graduations held in the sweltering heat of an overcrowded gymnasium. Despite the weather, the Seniors were in high spirits–anticipating receiving their diplomas and their upcoming beach trips. At the same time, they were having mixed feelings–looking into the uncertainty of their future lives, the change of their routine, the new responsibilities they would have, and already missing high school.

After an inspiring speech by D. A. Mr. Ivey, the members of the Class of 1977 received their diplomas. The night of June 7, 1977, marked the beginning of a new lifestyle for the graduating seniors.



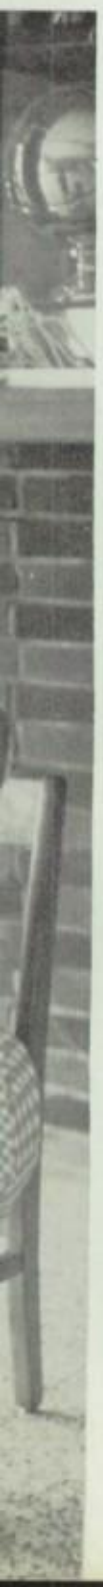


Registration

To correct the problems of M-M's registration policy, the administration adopted an entirely new registration procedure. The old registration technique contained many setbacks which ultimately led to its removal. Usually no student was ever totally satisfied with his schedule since he either did not get the teacher he had wanted, or he could not even get the class at all. Many classes, often the academic ones, were taught at the same time. Frequently, students were placed in alternates they did not want because of the conflicts.

In the new system, each class came to school on an appointed day before the opening of school, and registered for classes. The seniors were given the first choice of classes, and then the underclassmen were given a chance to register. Each student, having received a master schedule during the summer, made his own schedule and signed up for the desired class under the teacher he wanted.

Although some problems did arise through the new procedure, it was a big improvement over the old registration technique. The student body as a whole was much more satisfied with their schedules. After registration, the students and faculty began to settle into the day-to-day routine of school.



Weekends!

"Friday at last!" These words were echoed by many at M-M when Friday finally arrived. All the students looked forward to a little relaxation from the daily grind of endless classes and impossible homework. On Friday night everyone could be found at the ball games—cheering on our team or just talking to friends. Afterwards, everyone crammed into the Pizza Hut to eat and talk some more. Of course, some people didn't go to the Pizza Hut—they may have been just riding around.

Saturday night came with everyone either going to the Pizza Hut, riding around "exciting" Madison, or going to Greensboro to see a movie or to go to the Mall. Some people even had DATES!

Then Sunday, the last day of freedom, was usually spent recovering from the night before, or cramming for Monday's test. So went another exciting weekend at M-M. On Monday everyone unwillingly returned to school, dreaming of Friday to help them make it through another hectic week.

Spirit Week — Student Participation

Homecoming at M-M was one of the rare times when the student body became involved in school spirit and backed the football team even though it was having a losing season. The students continued to have faith in the hardworking guys on the team, and they showed their spirit as they participated in the activities that fell during Homecoming Week.

The week began with the students participating in a "jam session" in the auditorium and then showing their spirit by marching around the school. Other activities included Blue and White Day, and Jersey Day. On Friday, each student voted for who he thought the Homecoming Queens should be. Lead by the Seniors, who had previously deposited several hundred books in the library much to the librarians' dismay, the Pep Rally was a total success. Earlier during the week, students from each class had come to school at night and decorated their respective halls. After much hard work, the seniors were proclaimed the winners with their theme "Death Wish." Anticipation continued to build as everyone looked forward to the festivities of Homecoming Night.

Homecoming Queens Chosen

November fourth marked one of the most celebrated days of the year for the students of M-M—Homecoming. The fans were anxiously awaiting the announcement of the two Homecoming Queens as the girls in the Homecoming Court were announced. While the football team discussed their strategy for the second half, the band performed their last show of the year. Anticipation built as each girl was escorted through the stands onto the field. The excitement and applause heightened as the awaited moment finally arrived. As their sponsors surprised them by coming out on the field to give them a bouquet of roses and a necklace, Ginger Hopper and Tracey Mosely were announced as the two M-M Homecoming Queens of 1977.

Although the celebration was dampened somewhat by the rain and by the narrow loss to a surprising Rockingham County Team, the Homecoming spirit was not totally destroyed. After the game, everyone went to the Homecoming reception, sponsored by the Student Legislature, to top off a memorable night.

Excuses

Each one of us at M-M has undoubtedly has to have some excuse during our brief stay at school. Whether it was because we were late to class, or because we did not have our homework, everyone at some time had to answer to the persistant questions of an inquiring teacher. A few helpful excuses have been supplied below to make each student more prepared for those embarrassing moments when caught

Alarm clock died
Uncle died
Cat died
Chronic diarrhea
Urge for ice cream
Locker was stuck
Frog died in Biology
Term paper eaten by dog
Flat tire

Holiday Season Finally Arrives

As colder weather finally began to approach, everyone looked forward to the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays. After a long and anxious wait, the holidays finally arrived.

For Thanksgiving, the Student Legislature sponsored the annual food box collection for needy families. Each homeroom decorated and filled its box with goods, the result being a happy Thanksgiving for needy families. At the Thanksgiving Assembly, Mr. Todd's and Mrs. Tanners' homerooms boxes were announced as the winning boxes, and a musical message was given by Mr. Barry McGee.

Along with the Christmas season came many festivities. The Civinettes decorated a tree in the lobby, made Christmas ornaments, and presented three outstanding plays with their versions of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," "Peter Pan," and "Hansel and Gretel." Many other clubs also had Christmas parties which helped to get everyone in the Christmas spirit. Arriving unusually late, the final day before Christmas vacation was characterized by not only exchanging presents, but also by the appearance of several mysterious Santas around the school. Most students relaxed during the Christmas holiday and returned to school at least partially prepared for another semester of studying.

Sleeping In Class

Obviously, every class that each student went to was not the most stimulating and fascinating hour he had spent in his life. Some were frequently dull clock-watching sessions where the whole body fell asleep and the mind numbed. If you were not one those lucky few who found some reason to be excused, but you were one of us who was stuck in a hot class during a boring "discussion," you were forced to focus your attentions on just finding a way to pass the time.

Soon, the many possible ways one could fall asleep sitting in an uncomfortable desk were discovered. Who could have ever imagined that second period was the perfect time to catch up on last nights' lost sleep? Yet sleeping was not the only activity we dreamed up. If we were not really tired we could always daydream about what we would do if we could just endure to the end of school.

We often discovered that we had an unknown artistic talent that was hidden somewhere within us as our doodling changed into masterpieces that would have made Michelangelo proud. Most of us also found the fun, and sometimes danger, of passing notes to a friend just a few seats over. However, these were by no means the only activities created. Puzzles were completed, letters were written, and aerodynamic airplanes were also designed.

Even though all of our classes sometimes seemed to be boring, they of course were not. We somehow managed to learn that the Periodic Table was not published monthly, and that there were really some interesting books on all those reading lists!

Baseball Team Rebuilds

The Falcon Baseball team has had a different coach each season for the past several years. Coach Dean Knight experienced a rebuilding season with his team last spring. Under his coaching the players realized that they were a team and not merely a group of individuals. Even though they had a 5-16 record, one could not overlook the fact that they lost several close games. With the young, talented players, M-M will be an important prospect for the future.

Girls' Track Lacks Support

The M-M girls track team, with one disappointing season behind them, set out to build a strong team this year. But the girls saw their hope disappearing as the season neared its end. Although effort was great, participation was little. With such a small number of girls coming out for the team, coach Cindy Tanner found it difficult to develop a winning season. Since they faced larger teams, each girl found herself entered in two or more events. They ended their season with a 2-9 record.

Mens' Track Gains Strength

As spring neared, so did track season. And after a frustrating season last spring, the M-M track team managed to field a strong team in the conference this year. More young men came out for the team, giving M-M the variety and strength that they lacked last year. With a 5-2-1 record to back them, the team placed third in the conference. M-M tied with Morehead in one match, but was overtaken by them during the conference tournament. The most valuable team member was David Brooks, followed by most improved, John Vernon.

Mens' Team Loses Thompson

After losing three of last years' top six players, the tennis team was faced with a rebuilding year. However, led by Lance Thompson, an impressive sophomore, the team posted a respectable season. Since no funds were allocated by the school for uniforms, the team members held a successful candy sale, which raised money to buy shirts.

The team finished the year with a 6-7 record as they placed third in the conference. Four of the losses came against two very strong Southeast Guilford and Bishop McGuiness teams. The other defeats were narrowly lost to South Stokes and Morehead.

In the sectionals, the team's Thompson and Don Elmore doubles team was ranked seventh, yet they were upset before the quarterfinals. With no seniors on the team, and although Thompson's leaving will be definitely felt, the team will expect to post a winning season next year.

Girls' Team Gains Strength

Led by senior Kim Wall, last year's singles conference champion, the M-M girls tennis team placed third in the conference. Under the coaching of Larry Blackburn, the girls ended their season with a 9-5 record. In the sectionals, Kim Wall and Wendi Williams paired up as a doubles team, but were eliminated in the quarterfinals. Although two valuable seniors, Wall and Wendy Knight, will be leaving this year, the team is expected to continue its winning record.

Jim,

It's been great knowing you this year. We've all had some good times in Biology, with all the worms and frogs.

I've really enjoyed you picking on me and thanks again for all the times you sharpened my pencil. Good luck always. Love,

Rose

Volleyball lacks support

A quick look at their record would show that our Lady Falcons did not fair too well in Volleyball in 1977. But numbers cannot tell the whole story. Without the support and encouragement needed to develop a winning team, the girls dropped several close matches. The team, coached by Cindy Tanner, was inexperienced, since this was only its third year in existence. Sadly enough, they finished with a 3-21 record and were placed seventh in the conference.

Golfers Finish Strongly

Coached by Leroy Myers, the men's golf team were strong contenders in their conference. They were placed second in the conference behind Western Guilford. The team will lose two important seniors, Bobby Dalton, most valuable, And Greg Gore, most improved.

Falcons Go Winless

Lack of participation and experience proved to be the key factors to why the Madison-Mayodan varsity football team was a disappointment to fans, players, and head coach Kirby Foley. Despite the determination and great effort put forth, the team could not manage to capture a victory, winding up their season with a 0-10 record. However their spirited action on the field was far from that of a losing team. A near win over Rockingham Homecoming night proved to be one of the most exciting games played. M-M was overtaken in the final minutes by a single field goal. Faithfulness, closeness, and the desire to win kept the team together. Three players Dennis Martin, Benny Sims, and Keith Knight were chosen ALL CONFERENCE. After the season, Kirby Foley resigned as head coach.

Freshmen Show Promise

The freshmen football team, coached by Jeryl Todd, showed great strength this season. Led by Bynum Marshall and Marcus Marcellus, the team managed to have a respectable season. With such young and talented players, the team showed a promising hope for a future varsity team.

FALCONS OVERCOME DOUBTFUL SEASON

As basketball season neared, the players began to prepare for a new year. With only one returning starter, Phillip Parker, the team was faced with the difficulty of building a strong team. Coach Leroy Myers began a doubtful season, as his team seemed to be much smaller and inexperienced. The team showed great strength, and proved to be a surprise, overwhelming many of its opponents.

Early in the year, the Falcons hosted their own Christmas tournament, where they outlasted Northwest Guilford to capture the title. Danny Scales was named the Most Valuable Player in the tournament.

At the end of conference play, the Falcons posted a 18-4 record, with two conference losses coming from a much larger and stronger Reidsville team. The other two losses came from North Stokes.

The Falcon team, with three seniors and two juniors starting, have the bench power to be a competitive team next year.

GIRLS SHOW GREAT IMPROVEMENT

After several disappointing years in the past, the M-M girls showed a great improvement this season. Losing only one starter, the team still had returning MVP Wendy Knight. With the head coach, Dean Knight, the team remained in second place for most of the season, behind Eastern Guilford.

During Christmas season, M-M held its own Christmas tournament. The girls easily ran away with the victory over Northeast Guilford.

Although the team will be losing four starters, the bench shows great talent for next year. Two freshmen, Elaine Penn and Brenda Woods, were starters at one time during the season. With this talent, the team can expect a respectable season next year.

J.V. Team Experiences Rebuilding Season

The JV Basketball team, coached by Raymond Cooke, posted a 9-11 record at the end of conference play. Since five sophomores were placed on the varsity team, the JV team was comprised of mostly freshmen. The team, led by Bynum Marshall, steadily held fifth place throughout the season, losing many of their games in the fourth period.

Ninth Grade Team Inexperienced

With many ninth graders placed on the JV team, the freshmen basketball team was young and inexperienced. Led by Charlie Brooks, the team ended their season with a 6-6 record. Although this was an improvement from last season, next year should be more promising.

Cheerleaders Have New Advisor

Under a new advisor, Carolyn Thacker, the M-M cheerleaders set out to make each squad the best ever. To do away with any controversy, the cheerleaders were chosen by judges outside the school. Each girl was to earn points for her spot on the squad. The varsity squad was led by Maria Hayes, and the JV was led by Tracey Troxler.

The girls spent many hours practicing after school. They also spent many long nights on bus trips to cheer for their teams. They were successful in uplifting the spirits of each team and its fans, but sacrificed many long hours to achieve this goal.

Outstanding Seniors Chosen for Who's Who

After the confusion of the first semester had ended and everyone had settled into the day-to-day routine, the faculty was asked to nominate outstanding seniors to Who's Who at M-M. Among very stiff competition, the list was finally narrowed to twelve members. Although not everyone was in the National Honor Society, the Band, or on the Basketball Team, each member has contributed to M-M through either Academics, Athletics, or one of the various organizations. A teacher, individually chosen by each member, has written a few words that he or she felt described why the student was selected.

A well rounded student, DAVID WALKER deserves special recognition for his high academic achievement, especially in science and mathematics. While showing a lot of maturity in areas such as dependability and being able to work independently he still has time to be very active in school affairs. He participates in the National Honor Society, Beta Club, the Student Legislature and has been a member of the boys tennis team for three years.

ALEX KNIGHT has contributed to M-M High not only through academics, but by extracurricular activities as well. He has helped to set the academic atmosphere at M-M by his interest in mathematics and science, and he has contributed to the football and basketball teams and the yearbook staff as photographer. But most importantly, he has been around when anyone needed him.

A vibrant personality, a ready smile, an enthusiasm for all areas of school life, a willingness to help others, a deep interest in music—marching, concert, stage band and guitar—membership in the Beta Club, Civinettes, and Rifle Squad, make RUTH SMITH an outstanding member of the Class of '78.

BENNY SIMS represents the true meaning of Who's Who. His enthusiasm, hard work, and dedication to M-M and its programs is an inspiration to those around him. Benny is the type individual who will be a success at anything he decides to do. His dedication, personality, and great sense of humor are valuable assets and aid his leadership ability.

PAM PORTER'S outstanding academic achievements make her worthy of selection to Who's Who, but this is only one of her many desirable attributes. Pam is always ready to extend a helping hand to anyone in need. Her quiet, relentless dedication to her school, her band, and her community is an attribute that is very important for a successful life in school and after graduation. A charming personality, unusual benevolence, and an excellent attitude make Pam truly worthy of Who's Who.

Becoming a leader requires such a range of development, but most importantly it demands a strength of character, a sense of compassion for others, a pleasant disposition, and a ready smile. JIM MARSHALL has developed these qualities through his participation in many facets of student life, particularly athletics and class offices. For these reasons, Jim has been named to Who's Who.

To be blessed with outstanding athletic ability and yet remain humble; To recognize the value of hard work and dedication, both in athletics and in academics; To be kind and cheerful to everyone; To be independent and yet to know the importance of real friendship; To accomplish all this brings PHILLIP PARKER recognition in Who's Who.

An outstanding young woman must combine strength and sensitivity with a definite sense of purpose and direction. KIM WALL has developed her abilities in academics, in athletics, in club activities, and in friendships. Her consistency and desire for excellence in everything she undertakes has made her an outstanding recipient of Who's Who.

Because of her academic achievements, scholarly interests, dedication, versatility, and enthusiasm, JANICE KNIGHT is deserving of this honor. Her honors include membership in the National Honor Society, Beta Club, a 1977 Marshal, a High IQ Bowl Participant, and a member of the Annual Staff. In addition to these accomplishments, her leadership ability and affable personality help to make her an outstanding individual to emulate.

Because of his pleasing personality, his energetic involvement in many phases of school life, his diligence, his enthusiasm, his concern for others and his prowess on the basketball court, VINCENT DUDLEY is worthy of this honor.

Through academics as an outstanding student and Morehead Scholarship nominee; Through athletics, both as an active participant in Tennis and a coach's assistant in basketball; Through extracurricular activities, particularly as editor of the FALCON; Through good humor, understanding, and an optimistic belief in the value of the individual, DON ELMORE has become an outstanding senior.

Possessing a keen, inquisitive, creative mind which sets him apart from most individuals makes TERRY TAYLOR a unique personality. His driving ambition and his abundant energy lead him to take on a great variety of tasks, such as working as a newspaper reporter, organizing talent shows, producing football and basketball programs, and many other accomplishments too numerous to mention. These many attributes make Terry a worthy selection to Who's Who.

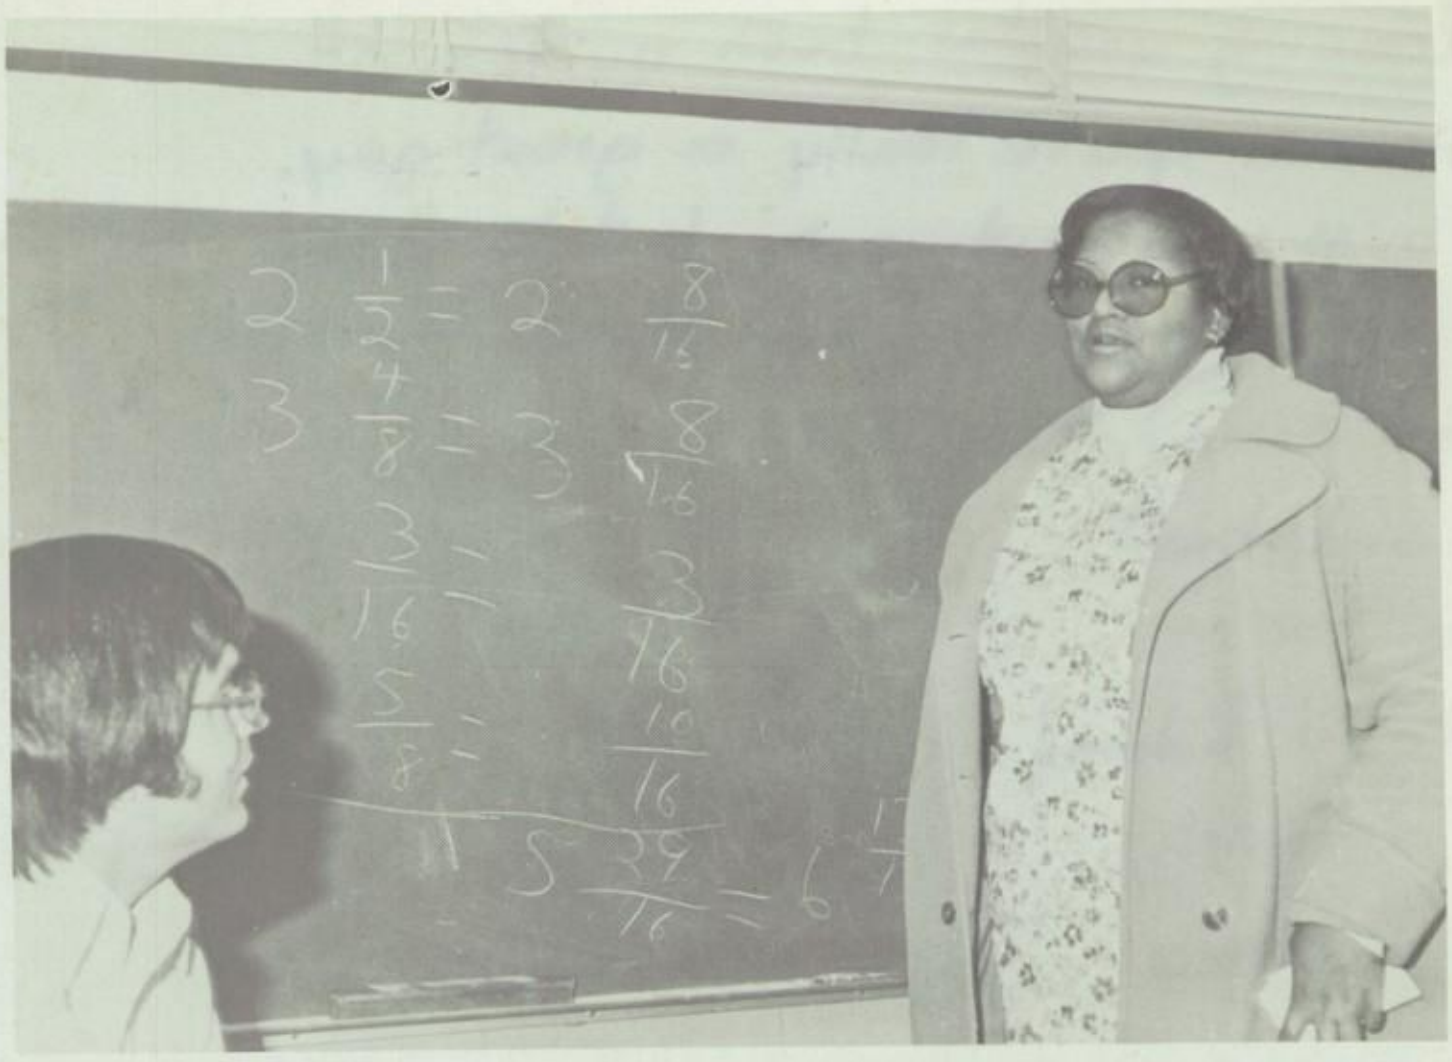
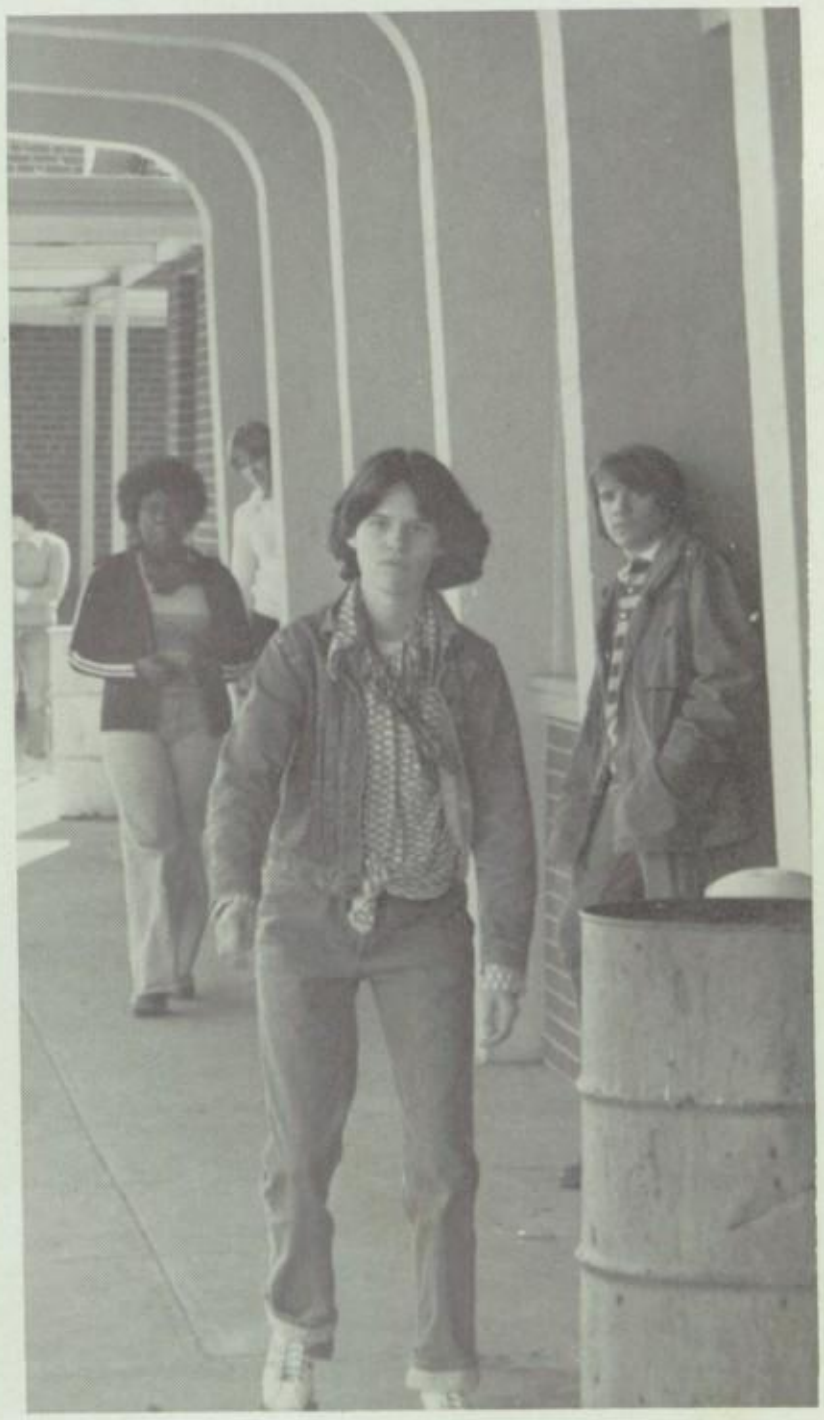
High School Is More Than Just Classes— It's a Way Of Life!

Lifestyles

Students at M-M reacted to life in several ways, either enthusiastically joining every available activity or disgustedly avoiding all contacts with humanity. Although the majority of the students fell somewhere in the middle of the spectrum, everyone at one time or another probably experienced both extremes. Regardless of the amount of participation or lack of it, attitudes were subtly formed which were not easily renounced. Frequently meeting people who would do just about anything from wearing a bear suit to sticking their hands in their mouths, we realized that all the warnings were right. One does meet all kinds. Perhaps we were even one of the ones regarded as strange. No matter how we acted, we became aware of the choices we had made for ourselves. Of all the things we learned during high school, the most important may have been our lifestyles.



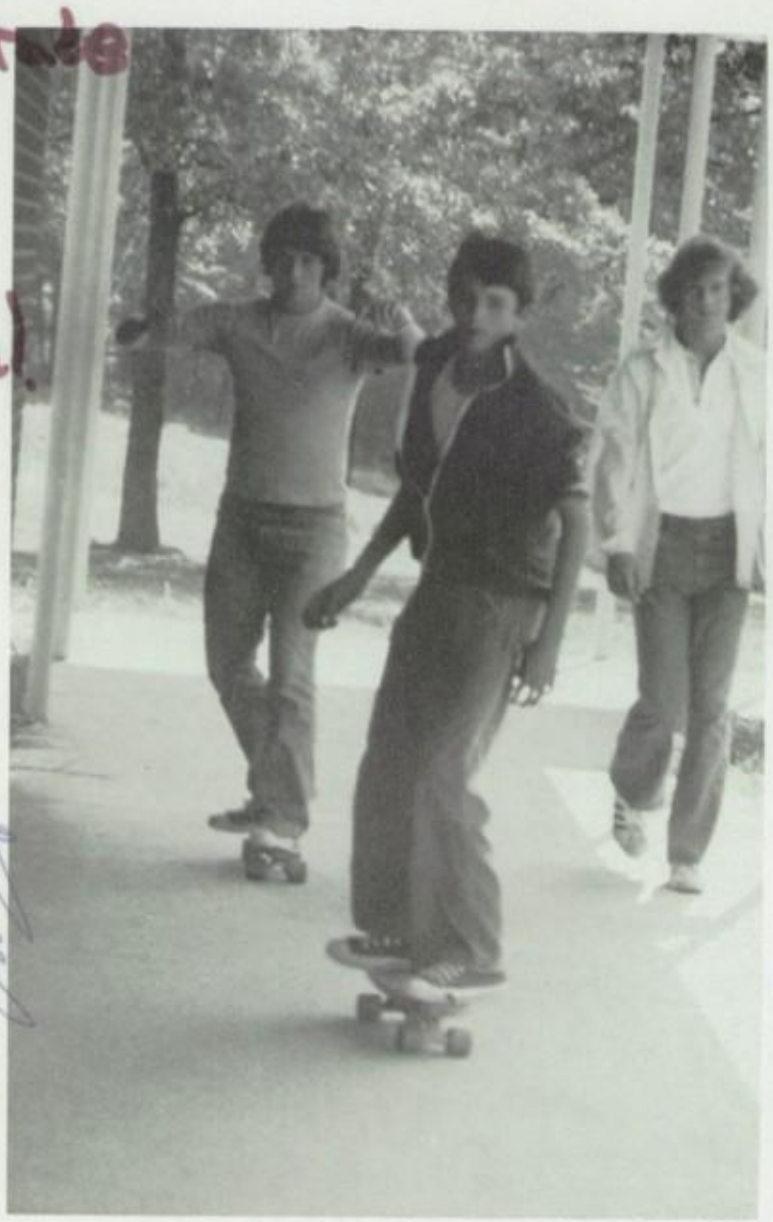


Hutch,

Knowing you has been quite an experience. You're really a great guy. I'll miss ya next year, but I'll see you at ballgames and things (whenever I come home). Take care and best wishes for a successful future!

Love ya,

Amy



Dutch,

Senior Class Presents THE WILD AND WOOLY WEST

Remembering the success and enjoyment of the Junior-Senior Prom, the Senior Class again revived the tradition of presenting a senior class play. With a strong vocal support for a play, several possible productions were ordered. However, when the time for casting arrived, the number of males trying out was discouragingly low. A last minute recruiting campaign luckily drafted enough males. Directed by Mrs. Porter, THE WILD AND WOOLY WEST, a humorous melodrama, which was presented in the spring, was extremely successful. The cast spent innumerable hours practicing, but they will always remember the laughter and the friendships built.

Rosemary Lowe, the immaculate young heroine, pure as the driven snow–Lynette Cardwell; Effingham Leffingwell, steeped in crime, who will stop at nothing to accomplish his foul ends–Don Elmore; Gladwyn Throckmorton, the manly-bosomed hero, the foreman of the Bar None Ranch–Carter Jones; Althea Quinn, affected and imperious, heiress to the Bar None Ranch–Amy Alberty; Silver Bell, an Indian maiden who works around the ranch–Kim Wall; Thalia Snead, housekeeper at the ranch–Ruth Smith; Eagle Annie, the Sheriff of Ruckus County–Lynda Sharpe; Slim Tobin, a cowboy–David Walker; Lusy Tobin, Slim's vivacious young sister–Kim Minich; Ma Judkins, a mountain woman–Pam Porter; Baldy Ferguson, an elderly cowboy–Tim Puckett; Bruce Shale, who arrives unexpectedly–William Webb; Sally Jane, Scrag, husband-hunting maiden–Donna Neal.

Annual Staff Has Winged Visions

Few people realize the amount of work required to produce a yearbook. Few people realize how much time is spent taking and developing pictures. Few know of all the time required not only to develop a theme, to write copy, or to draw a cover, but also to consider unnoticed factors such as layout styles, page numbers, heading styles, and division headings. As each member of the annual staff filled out his application last spring to help produce a yearbook, he probably also failed to conceive of the extreme amount of dedication required. Yet as each attended several meetings in the summer, he began to see the tremendous amount of work ahead. "Deadlines" soon became a dreaded word as more and more work seemed suddenly to appear before those feared dates. Working sometimes during their spare time at home, members of the staff met the challenges ahead of them. This yearbook, which will only be judged by the student body, has captured the year as the annual staff saw it.

A special thanks to: Paul Waldruff, THE MESSENGER, Terry Taylor, Brad Kent, Everett Dudley.

Hutch,

You are a very sweet guy, and I like you a lot (even though you pick on me!) it's hard to write on the bus! I do wish you the best of luck in everything. Stay sweet! See ya next year!

Love, Jo Hall

Sorry I goofed.

Hutch,

I'm glad you moved on across the "Street" as you say. You are a nice "Guy" sometimes but not all time. I hope to see ya a lot this summer and I will.

Spreading our wings and soaring to new heights, we the students of M-M possessed winged visions which refused to be blinded. Unsatisfied with just asking "Why?," many of us continued to suggest solutions to the problems that were present at school. The majority of us were still unsatisfied with the class elections, the parking lot situation, the decline in academic classes, the lack of recognition of the student government, and the lack of substantial athletic facilities. However, our recommendations were often either disregarded or the change was incomplete. Eventually however, with enough student pressure, our viewpoints will gradually be noticed and used.

Surely some students believed in the idea of lofty visions, but it was not completely realistic for the entire student body. Many still strayed away from scholastic challenges. Many were still content to complain rather than to propose solutions, and far too many did not get involved simply because they did not care.

Regardless, many of us will continue to search for relevancy as we did with geometric proofs, while always trusting our own realities. Watch, for we shall some day be adults and we will call a world ours, a world of tomorrow built upon our winged visions.

There are many people I would like to thank personally as I look back on my high school career. My family and friends cannot image how much their encouragement and suggestions meant to me. Thanks a million! I would also like to thank most of my teachers because I will always remember and cherish the many things they taught me. A special thanks should go to Mrs. Ogburn who not only proofread much of my copy for the yearbook and suggested ideas, but who also listened to my many problems when I was discouraged. Never forgetting where I have been, I will continue to look ahead while always attempting to reach for the explanations that lie on the other side of the wings of an unseen falcon

MADISON-MAYODAN HIGH SCH

Hutch
I have enjoyed riding the bus with you this year and listening to your dumb jokes. You are a very nice guy. Best of luck to you in the future.

Tim,
We have had a good time in algebra this year. I'm glad I met you. Even if you did try to make it hard on me when I went to the board, and made "cracks" about my buttered Popcorn shirt. You are still one of my best friends.

Jim-
Here's saying "good-bye." It's been great knowing you. However, I fear I must make it. Here's hoping that you get all you want out of life & out of the remainder of your high-school years. Best of luck always.

Jim,
It takes the last shot at saying good-bye for the summer. I had fun being in your classes, hope to be in them next year. I could say everything I know about you, but it would take the whole book (haha)
Love
Brenda
